

RAINELLE KRAUSE SOPRANO

Known for her absolute precision and fiery coloratura, soprano Rainelle Krause is a versatile and compelling singer. She was recently seen as Die Königin der Nacht in Mozart's Die Zauberflöte with the Berlin Staatsoper Unter den Linden and Deutsche Oper Berlin. Other engagements include Pat Nixon in the Princeton Festival's Nixon in China, the cover of Zerlina in Don Giovanni with The Dallas Opera, guest soloist with Voices of Change for their Holocaust memorial performance, featured artist for Opus Opera's event, Mystique, a circus and opera collaboration, Painted Sky Opera's production of the The Medium as Monica, Blonde in Abduction from the Seraglio and Belinda in Dido and Aeneas with Opera Piccola of San Antonio, Madame Herz with the New Hampshire Music Festival's concert version of Mozart's Der Schauspieldirektor, and in collaboration with San Antonio's SOLI ensemble as the Queen of the Night.

Performances for Ms. Krause in the 2019-2020 season include debuts with Theater Basel as Tania in Al gran sole carico d'amore and with the Berlin Staatsoper, Deutsche Oper Berlin, and North Carolina Opera as Die Königin der Nacht in Mozart's Die Zauberflöte. Upcoming performances for 2020-2021 include further engagements as Die Königin der Nacht in Die Zauberflöte with the Berlin Staatsoper and Theater Basel.

Ms. Krause has been awarded First Place in the Fielder Grant Competition, Third Place and Audience Favorite in the Orpheus Competition, and has been chosen as one of four winners in the Texas Camerata's Baroque Aria Competition. She was a finalist in the Lois Alba Competition in Houston as well as the International Mildred Miller Competition in Pittsburgh, a Regional Finalist with the Metropolitan National Council Auditions in New Orleans and St. Louis, and a semi-finalist with the Licia Albanese Puccini Foundation and Gari Foundation competitions in New York City. Ms. Krause trained as young artist with the Sankt Goar International Music Festival and Academy in Germany, the OperaWorks Advanced Artist Program in Los Angeles in summer 2013, Opera Las Vegas in spring 2013, and the Taos Opera Institute and Opera Nova Costa Rica in 2012. In 2014, she was invited back to Taos as a guest artist, performing in venues all across Taos and Santa Fe.

Some Ms. Krause's concert credits include a concert version of La Traviata with the Irving Symphony Orchestra, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony with the Plano Symphony Orchestra, Bach's Jauchzet Gott with members of the Virginia Symphony Orchestra, Vaughan Williams' Dona nobis pacem and Haydn's Paukenmesse with the Amarillo Master Chorale, Orff's Carmina burana with the Plano Symphony, and Vivaldi's Magnificat with the Northminster Presbyterian Church in Indianapolis.

Ms. Krause has performed with Fort Worth's Casa Mañana Theatre in their production of The Sound of Music, as well as the Fort Worth Opera chorus in Le pêcheurs de perles, La Traviata, and Hamlet. She holds a Bachelor of Music (2010) and a Master of Music (2012) in Vocal Performance from Indiana University's Jacobs School of Music in her hometown of Bloomington, IN. She currently lives in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and trains on aerial silks.

CRITICAL ACCLAIM

Tania – Al gran sole	carico d'amore -	Theater	Basel
----------------------	------------------	---------	-------

"Rainelle Krause as Tania creates such crystalline tones"

- Badische Zeitung

"The female roles of the revolutionaries in "Al gran sole" demand from the sopranos the highest virtuosity in the highest possible tessitura over wide-ranging phrases. Rainelle Krause fascinates as a frightened, dying Tania Bunke"

— Deutschlandfunk

Pat Nixon – Nixon in China – The Princeton Festival

"Rainelle Krause is a catalog of facets as she presents a diverse Pat Nixon, at once deferent and astute, aloof and canny, and ready for any role presented to her. Best of all is how Krause finds the hominess in Mrs. Nixon while honing in on her skillful intelligence."

— PrincetonInfo.com

"Soprano Rainelle Krause effectively looked the part of Pat Nixon, capturing an often worn and weary woman whose husband was the principal focus of her life. Krause sang in a consistently lyrical style, especially in her Act II soliloquy reflecting on her own good fortune."

— Town Topics

"For the sake of the opera, we see more human links than perhaps reality would have found between him and the weary Pat Nixon of Rainelle Krause. A certain unsteadiness of her large and well-focused soprano in the opening scene of Act II hinted at this insecurity, this false note, this wonder at finding herself, with her lack of pretension, in so aristocratic a situation, being gracious to peasants, pigs, small children, unable to restrain her sympathy for the peasant girl raped in a ballet. Hers is a voice of considerable lyric power." — Parterre

"Yuk has also assembled the most vocally consistent cast I've heard at the Festival. . . Rainelle Krause brought a plangent lyric soprano to Pat Nixon; better yet, she provided a necessary sense of dignity whenever possible."

- Broad Street Review

Queen of the Night - The Land of the Magic Flute live animation - SOLI Ensemble

"Soprano Rainelle Krause impressed with her sure aim in the stratospheric reaches of both Queen of the Night arias"

— Classical Voice North America

Blondie (Blondchen) - The Abduction from the Seraglio - Opera Piccola (now Alamo City Opera)

"Crystalline-voiced coloratura Rainelle Krause was charming as mossy-toned Blondie"

- Incident Light

Blondie (Blondchen) – The Abduction from the Seraglio – Opera Piccola (now Alamo City Opera)

"The best pure singer was soprano Rainelle Krause"

– San Antonio Express-News

Soloist – Carmina burana – Indiana University Philharmonic

"Soprano Krause [soars] gorgeously in songs given to amours; the voice was pure, the intonation absolute. She was a pleasure to hear."

— The Bloomington Herald-Times
